1.2. Socio-economic Profile

Nairobi province has:

- The highest urban population in Kenya.
- The highest population density.
- A young population structure.
- The highest monthly mean household income in the country and the least number of malnourished children
- More than 50% of the population living in absolute poverty
- High inequalities by class and other social economic variables
- · Very low primary and secondary school enrollments
- · Poor access to safe drinking water and sanitation

Nairobi has eight constituencies. It has been an overwhelmingly opposition stronghold. In the 1997 parliamentary elections, opposition parties took up 7 out of 8 seats. In 1997, Nairobi seats were competitively contested by the main political parties leading to low victory margins for the eventual winners. DP won 5 of the 8 Nairobi seats then. Each MP represents approximately 267,907 persons, occupying an estimated 87 Km²

2. CONSTITUENCY PROFILE

Starehe comprises of City Square, Nairobi Central, Ziwani, River Road, Kariokor/Starehe and Pangani sub-locations of Ngara location and Huruma and Mathare locations.

2.1. Demographic characteristics

2.2. Social economic profile

The Nairobi central business district is located in Starehe constituency. Therefore the main economic activities include governmental, non - governmental, and privately owned businesses. Learning institutions are also numerous as are hospitals and other forms of enterprises such as hawking.

2.3. Electioneering and political information

Before the 1997 general elections, the constituency had two by - elections. The first was in 1994 following the defection of Kiruhi Kimondo from FORD - ASILI to KANU. The second was in 1996, following the resignation of Mr. Steve Mwangi as the MP, after citing disappointment with the opposition and unfulfilled hopes. Starehe politics have been shaped by multi-party politics since 1992. In 2002, the National Rainbow Coalition took the seat.

2.8. Main problems

The issue of hawking in the city center is central to this constituency. The debate over the banning of hawking from the streets is still on going. In the past, numerous, bloody battles have taken place between the city council security, police and hawkers. For short spans of time, hawkers have been cleared from the CBD only to return in larger numbers. Established business people with shops and offices in the CBD have frequently lodged complaints about the way hawking obstructs their licensed businesses by selling wares on the corridors. They also obstruct pedestrians and contribute to littering in the city.

Those who support them [because they are entitled to an honest living] argue that hawkers should be left alone to eke out a living amidst the harsh economic conditions facing the country. To support or not to support the plight of hawkers is a tricky issue for politicians in Starehe. Other problems include pick pocketing, harassment, bank robberies and house breaking. Also among other problems are noise pollution, fire outbreaks, dysfunctional city amenities like toilets, traffic lights, faded pedestrian crossings, car accidents, and hit and run accidents.

3. CONSTITUTION MAKING/REVIEW PROCESS

3.1. Constituency Constitutional Forums (CCFs)

3.1.1. Philosophy

The Constituency Constitutional Forum (CCF) plays a very significant role in the review of the constitution. It is designated as one of the organs 'through which the review process shall be conducted' - (sec. 4(1) of the Constitution of Kenya Review Act, Cap.3A). The importance attached to the CCF arises from the recognition of the need to involve the people fully in the review of the constitution. Only through such participation of the public will the new constitution reflect the preferences, hopes and aspirations of the people. It would also increase people's knowledge of constitutional issues, and facilitate their familiarity with the provisions of the new constitution. Additionally, the process, enhances the legitimacy of the constitution among Kenyans and their sense of ownership over it. In these ways the proper implementation and safeguarding of the constitution will be facilitated.

3.1.2. Composition and Establishment

The 1997 Review Act had provided for district forums 'to mobilize communities at the local level for the purpose of civic education in preparation for the Commission's work and to perform such other duties as the Commission may assign' - (sec. 12A (6). The District Forums were to consist of members elected to represent locations, religious organizations, and the disabled, in addition to MPs and members of every local authority in the district. The Act contained several provisions prescribing minimum qualifications for membership and regulating the operations of the District Forums.

The Select Committee of the National Assembly, which reviewed the Act in early 2000, decided to replace the District Forums with Constituency Forums to get views 'directly from the people in the constituency without necessarily going through the rigours of an election to determine the members of the forum'. It thought that this would provide for a more popular form of participation. It recommended on the simplification of the forum to avoid elections. The Select Committee envisaged the constituency forum as and 'open forum with no specific structures', which should be 'flexible and easy to manage'. Its opinion was that the 'existing leadership comprising Members of Parliament, councilors, community based organizations, religious groups and individuals should be able to present views and opinions directly from the grassroots' (The Report of the Parliamentary Select Committee Reviewing the Constitution of Kenya Review Act, 1997, April 2000). It removed the regulatory powers of the Commission over the forum, its role being confined to the 'facilitation' of the forum. It also changed the function of the forum from the facilitation of civic education to also include facilitation and the collection of the views of the public on proposals to alter the constitution.

In view of the limited role of the CKRC in the establishment of the CCF's, the CKRC prepared and gazetted Guidelines for the operationalization of the constituency constitutional forums. The Guidelines stipulated that all the residents of a constituency would constitute the CCF. The CCF is described as one of the organs 'through which the review process shall be conducted' - (sec.4(1)). The CCF was thus one of the principal ways in which the views of the public were to be obtained.

In order to coordinate and facilitate the activities of the CCF, a Constituency Constitutional Committee (CCC) was to be established. The Guidelines proposed its membership to consist of 10 persons, of which three would be ex-officio: the local MP, the chair of the County Council in which the constituency is located, and the District Coordinator. The Guidelines stated that the membership would be as broad and representative of the people of the constituency as possible and recommended that at least a third of the committee should be women.

3.1.3. Functions of CCF

- Facilitation of collection of the views of the public at the constituency level on proposals to alter the constitution; and
- Debate and discussion of the views of the members of the public on proposals to alter the constitution.

In performance of these functions, the CKRC was required to visit all constituencies (Sec. 18 (1)(a)).

3.1.4. Functions of CCC

- The functions of the CCC were mainly facilitative and advisory, the primary aim being to enhance the effective participation in the ownership of the constitution review process by the people at the constituency level;
- The CCC was also mandated to promote, facilitate and monitor civic education at the constituency level in collaboration with the District Coordinator and civic education providers;
- Additionally, the CCC had to ensure that the constituency had access to all information relevant to the review process in coordination with District Documentation centers; and
- Finally, the CCC was also mandated with the task of dissemination of the report of the CKRC. It was to be assisted in this by the District Coordinator, who was also its accounting officer, in relation to funds that were made available to it by CKRC.

It is important to emphasize that the Guidelines were advisory, and the local community was free to modify them to suit local circumstances. For example, the size of the CCC could be increased when and if adequate representation and diversity required it.

3.1.5. Date of Commencement of Work

The Constituency Constitutional Forum (CCF) was to run for an initial period commencing November 2001 up to September 2002. Accordingly, each Constituency Constitutional Committee (CCC) should have been constituted at the very latest by the end of November 2001. The Constituency Constitutional Forum was to be operational by that time.
